Your 8-Day Journey

Day 1

Welcome to Sydney

A driver meets you at Sydney (SYD) with a sign and takes you to the Four Seasons, where the harbour, the Opera House and the Bridge are all outside the window. The first evening is Sydney rolling out the carpet: designer boutiques from Zimmermann to Chanel, high tea, a spa if you want one, cocktails with a harbour view. It bends to whatever you feel like. Dinner at a local restaurant closes it out.

Meals: Dinner

Day 2

Sydney City Tour

The city on foot with a guide who knows every corner of it. A harbour lookout first to get your bearings, then The Rocks, where the settlement began. Macquarie Street and its colonial architecture down to Hyde Park and the Cathedral. The Queen Victoria Building and the Strand Arcade for Victorian grandeur, and the hidden art installation at Angel Place that almost everyone walks past. Lunch, then Mrs Macquarie's Chair for the view, the Royal Botanic Gardens, and the Opera House itself, walked slowly and properly. Later, the ferry from Circular Quay to Manly and a beach that stretches a kilometer and a half under Norfolk pines.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Day 3

Free Day and Dinner on the Harbour

The day is yours. A private yacht charter around the harbour with breakfast canapes, the spa inside the hotel, a personal shopper through the Queen Victoria Building and David Jones, or nothing at all - the concierge will arrange any of it, at your own cost. At twenty past four a car collects you for the dinner cruise: a multi-course dinner with wine while the skyline goes past, and enough time on deck between courses to watch the light change over the Opera House and the Bridge.

Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

Day 4

Blue Mountains and the Koalas

A full day west into the UNESCO-listed Blue Mountains with a private guide. Featherdale Wildlife Park first, where you hand-feed kangaroos that hop loose around you, watch the wombats and the emus, and can add a koala encounter with a keepsake photo if you want one. Then Echo Point and the Three Sisters, and the Dreamtime story behind them, over the Jamison Valley. The railway, skyway, cableway and clifftop walkway are all included. Lunch with wine at a mountain resort, taken slowly, with the valley in front of you - lunch is at your own cost.

Meals: Breakfast

Day 5

Welcome to Cairns

Breakfast, check out, and the midday flight north to Cairns - a checked bag is included on it. Check in at Crystalbrook Bailey, two hundred and fifteen rooms of modern Australian design with the Coral Sea on one side and the mountains on the other, run on solar with no single-use plastic anywhere in the building. The evening is yours: the Asian-fusion restaurant downstairs, or the rooftop bar for the sunset over the marina.

Meals: Breakfast

Day 6

The Great Barrier Reef

Out early for the full day at Agincourt Reef on the outer Great Barrier Reef. A wave-piercing catamaran from Port Douglas Marina, morning tea on the way, and three and a half hours at the activity platform moored in the lagoon. Snorkel gear, stinger suits, instruction, buoyancy vests and lifeguards are all provided; if you would rather stay dry there is the underwater observatory and the semi-submersible coral tour. A marine biologist gives the reef talk, the crew feed the fish, and a hot and cold tropical buffet lunch runs in the middle of it. Back by a quarter past five. Dinner is a Cairns table built on native Australian ingredients - kangaroo, crocodile, barramundi, bush herbs.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

Day 7

Aboriginal Culture and the Farewell Dinner

Late morning out to a rainforest nature park near Kuranda for an award-winning Aboriginal cultural experience: one of the oldest surviving cultures on earth, told by the people it belongs to. The dance performance in the rainforest amphitheatre and the Dreamtime Walk together take about an hour; an extended Dreamtime Walk can be added at extra cost. Lunch in Kuranda, open-air, in the middle of the rainforest. In the evening, the farewell dinner on the Cairns Esplanade, with the Coral Sea outside and Far North Queensland on the plate.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Farewell Dinner

Day 8

No Goodbyes, Just See You Soon

A last breakfast, then your transfer to Cairns International. Depart any time after 8 AM from CNS. Check the room twice, and we will see you on the next one.

Meals: Breakfast
