DAY BY DAY

A Sample 9-Day Journey

A sample itinerary. This is a private trip, planned around your dates and your people; every day of it can be changed. Book a call and we will make it yours.

Day 1

Welcome to Riyadh

Land at King Khalid (RUH) before 3 PM, where a driver meets you with a sign. Check in at the Hyatt Regency Riyadh Olaya, then at seven the group gathers at a modern Lebanese restaurant for the welcome dinner. Lebanese cooking with a modern hand: mezze, bread straight from the oven, grilled meats, seasonal plates built to be shared. Your local Saudi host joins you here and stays with you all week. Smart casual.

Meals: Welcome Dinner

Day 2

Riyadh Heritage and Modern Marvels

A full day across the whole span of the city. The National Museum first, then Musmak Fort, the mud-brick fortress whose capture began modern Saudi Arabia. Through the Dirah Souq, where the spice and the silver and the carpets are. Lunch is private, traditional recipes given a contemporary read, lamb with cardamom and saffron over rice. Then Diriyyah, a UNESCO site and the birthplace of the first Saudi state. As the light goes, the King Abdullah Financial District and the 99th-floor Sky Bridge at Kingdom Tower, and mocktails on a rooftop as the city turns into lights.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Day 3

Fly to AlUla and Sunset at Elephant Rock

An early flight to AlUla. Lunch at a contemporary local restaurant, where Mediterranean and Middle Eastern cooking meet inside the sandstone canyons. Afternoon at the Harrat Viewpoint over the valley, then check in at Habitas AlUla in Ashar Valley, ninety-six standalone villas built from sustainable materials with floor-to-ceiling glass onto the desert. At half five, Elephant Rock for sunset, Arabic coffee poured into small cups and Sukkari dates, on carpets and cushions, while the rock goes amber then crimson then purple.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Day 4

Hegra and AlUla Old Town

Out at six for Hegra, Saudi Arabia's first UNESCO World Heritage Site, in a private Land Rover. More than a hundred Nabataean tombs cut into the cliffs, including Qasr al-Farid standing alone in the sand, and the Nabataean Well that kept the incense caravans alive. Back to Habitas for breakfast and the middle of the day. In the afternoon, Dadan, capital of the Dadanite and Lihyanite kingdoms, and the Lion Tombs cut into the rock above it. In the evening, AlUla Old Town: mud-brick alleyways, lantern light, market stalls, and dinner in the middle of it.

Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

Day 5

Fly to Oman

Breakfast boxes on the way out, then the flight east to Muscat. Check in at The Ritz-Carlton Al Bustan Palace, set between the Al Hajar Mountains and the Sea of Oman, with a kilometer of private beach, five pools and gardens of palm and frankincense. The evening is yours to find your way around it.

Meals: Breakfast

Day 6

Muscat, Your Way

Nothing scheduled. There is an optional city tour if you want it: the Sultan Qaboos Grand Mosque, which holds twenty thousand and one of the largest carpets in the world, Omani bread and karak tea at a local cafe, the Royal Opera House, Al-Qurm Beach, the Muttrah fish market and souq, Al Alam Palace, and the twin Portuguese forts over the harbour. Or stay put, and let the resort do what it is for. The city tour is an optional add-on at $150 for each guest, minimum two guests, plus $8 to go inside the Royal Opera auditorium.

Meals: Breakfast

Day 7

Wadi Shab and the Sinkhole

Another free day, with an optional one worth taking: Wadi Shab, a canyon of emerald pools, hidden caves and waterfalls reached by a forty-minute walk through the valley, then the Bimmah Sinkhole, fifty metres of turquoise water you can swim and snorkel. Karak tea on the way. Hiking shoes and swimwear if you go.

Meals: Breakfast

Day 8

Free Day and Farewell Dinner

The last full day, at your pace. Sunrise yoga on the beach, a long breakfast at the hotel's beachfront restaurant, the resort spa and its frankincense and rose rituals, kayaks and paddleboards, the adults-only infinity pool, or afternoon tea under the hotel's domed atrium. At half seven, the farewell dinner at the Al Bustan Palace.

Meals: Breakfast, Farewell Dinner

Day 9

Departure from Muscat

Breakfast, then your transfer to the airport. Depart any time after 8 AM from Muscat. Check the room twice before you go.

Meals: Breakfast
